

The Reed Boardall Group Gender Pay Gap Report - Published April 2018

We are proud that at The Reed Boardall Group, we have successfully created a diverse workforce and meet the objectives of the Government's gender pay reporting legislation.

As a long established family business with a focus on quality and service, we are committed to creating and retaining a talented and highly trained team from a wide range of cultural backgrounds and reflects the communities in which we live and work.

Across our cold storage and logistics operations in the UK, we have a mean gender pay gap of -3.1% (average) and a median (middle) gender pay gap of 1.8%. This is significantly better than the current national median average of 18.1%.

We value the different experiences, skills, and views of our diverse workforce and recognise their vital role in enabling us to consistently provide an outstanding service to our customers.
